an Irrevocable Letter of Guarantee***

*A letter of guarantee is a type of contract issued by a bank on behalf of a customer who has entered a contract to purchase goods from a supplier and promises to meet any financial obligations to the supplier in the event of default. It only takes that our bank applied to your bank for the funds, presenting them the necessary invoices. You can consider it as a Bill of Exchange at 90 days which allows us, in the event that you are not able to pay an invoice in due course, to apply to your bank for payment. Among its advantages are the reduced number and value of the fees involved and the possibility of issuing it for a long term period up to 2 or 3 years, depending on your threshold's validity term with your bank.
